From Old Virginia.

Sours Bosron Va. Sept., 25 1884. Entron FREE PRESS: After an absence twelve years, I am once more enjoying the hospitalities of friends and relations dear old Va. But alas! how changed. The places that once knewme, now know me no more. The timber has been cut, fences removed or gone to decay, and the magnifi cent old groves under whose pleasant, quiet shades I was wont to roam in the days gone by, have given place, not to the magnificent and hospitable homes of the old Verginia gentleman of anti bellum times, but the niserable log huts of our dusky brethren sites so common in Verginia scenery, and go where you will you meet them, often five or six together in their little carts, drawn by a school fund. little bob tailed ox or bull in shafts. They remind me of our Mexican population, only so well dressed.

But my object in writing this letter is not to discuss the merits or demerits of the Verginia negro or his patient and inseprable companion the said bobtailed ox, but more particularly the changes which have taken place in the educational facilties of the country and to show you what this Glorious ple, This, (Halifax), was the wealthies county in the State before the war, and her people noted for refinment and intelligence. priding themselves on their fine schools and churches. Now, there is not a school of any note in the county, and in this place of 12 or 1500 inhabitants and the business centre Only forty cents for that time. Try it for of the county, there is not a single male school; all waiting for the free school to open the 1st of Oct., which will will probably be taught for four or five months in the year and the balance of the time the children are idle. "Well," you will ask, "why don't address the people at the Court House in the people get up a good private school." For the same reason that we could not get up a good male school in San Marcos, so ong as a free school was taught; there are too many people who do not value the education of their children sufficient to pay for sending them to school, when they can send them a few months in the year for nothing. I can but be struck with the difference in the distribution of the free school funds in San Marcos and here, and the result. There you can send to the school of your choice and get the benefit of the school fund also, here you must send to the school of somebody else's choice whether you like it or not, open to all alike, decent people's children forced into the ommon herd with the riff-raff of creation.

But to illustrate a little. When I arrived here in August I found the good people of this place very much interested in the opening of their female college. They had just completed a comfortable, commodious building to accommodate from eighty to one hundred students, the building was bought by a most estimable lady, with a full corps of the best teachers in the country, and her THE CURRENT, a new and very successful school opened under very flattering circumstances, the F. F. V's of the country sending their daughters to board in the college. I started my daughter, who is not yet sixvarious interest. Not the least of its attractive of San Marcos schools, hoping she cation, she was the most advanced scholar in the school, and had to be classed entirely to herself all the way through her studies.

As to her music, my four sisters (all of whom were educated in the best schools of Virginia) admit that the harbon has been better aucht.

Now, what ginia), admit that she has been better aught plain, and any intelligent citizen here will 142. give it to you: "This miserable system of common free schools." Then three cheers for the schools of San Marcos, and three times three for Judge K. for the manly position he has taken in this matter, and to show I am sincere in the appreciation of the efforts of our people to sustain their schools. I will bring my boy back about 1st of Octoher to school again. Hoping the FREE Try the city carriage to any part of San Parss will continue to prosper, and its editor never grow old, I am

Our correspondent thus uptrips himself at every turn, showing that he writes from their carts are not so good and they are not prejudice rather than fact and argument. Let him inspect the operation of the Free School system in a majority of the States of the Union, and he will find himself called upon to reconsider and retract his denunciations. Nav. we will not ask him to go out of Texas, for in most of our principal cities and towns, even no larger than San Marcos. he will find the system working admirably and to general satisfaction. Texas, unlike Virginia, is looking forward instead of backward, is aligning herself with the live, progressive elements and principles of the age, rather than sinking supinely into apathy and decay. And the sheet anchor of her progress in the future will be this same free chool system. It is a system founded on the genuine democratic idea of "the greatest good to the greatest number;" of the great central principle of Christianity, the elevation of the poor and humble, from whose ranks, by the way, some of our greatest men have sprung; while economically it is based on the doctrine that it is vastly cheaper and better to educate all classes than to carry on courts and build fails and penitentiaries for the classes heretofore neg> lected, despred and downtrodden. We yield to no one, (at least to no one who is not a member of the Methodis church), in good will towards Coronal Institute, but we expect ere long to see a sucsessful Free School here as well, and we redict that there will be found ample room for both, and that so far from either being in the way of the other each will be found a help and blessing to the other. We are frank to admit that our free school experiiment here was badly engineered, and hence mainly a failure, and we are not in favor of another being made till the conditions are present for right, intelligent and successfu action. Meantime we are heartily glad that our educational status is as good as it is.

4. A word or two as to his use of word Campbellite. Be it known that as a religious people we have a right to select the name by which to be called, and court esy demands that we be called by that name. Furthermore, we number about seven hundred thousand in the United States, with a large following in England, Australia, and the Islands of the Sea. also have missionaries in England, France Turkey, China, Japan, etc. While individ ually, where a brighter judicial light than Jeremia S. And time would fail me to speak of Govern consented to photograph and frame at cost ors and legislators, both state and nations of material the town of San Marcos, its So numerous indeed have we become, and so influential, that all religious bodies respect us, and think themselves not belittled to call us by the name we wear. Indeed the opproblous epithet, Campbellits, now only emanates from obscure and billious sources. But by those whose salvation is a foregone conclusion, who are making no effort to get to heaven, we may expect to be called most any thing. Well, Bro. Hendon is welcome to all the honor that shall accrue to him for speaking of us as "the Camp-bellite church." Finally, what I have written has been from the purest of motives. Believing as I honestly didwhat Bro. Martin taught some things contrary to the word of God, I could but call attention to it. This I did in a spirit of inquiry, and that it will bear fruit I have not the least doubt. Nor do I entertain any but the kindest feelings for Bros. Martin, Hendon, and all our good Baptist brethren. If there is any ill feeling or harsh words it must be on their side of the house. With this I dismiss the subject unless, something should transpire to call forth ad. ditional words. Truly,
